OHIO STATE FOOTBALL INFORMATION

Members of the Press, Radio and Television:

Speaking for the entire Athletic Staff of The Ohio State University, we thank you for the fine coverage you have given to Buckeye athletic teams. You have helped Ohio State finish in the top three nationally in home attendance for each of the past 33 years and to lead the nation 21 of those years.

This Press Book has been written to provide as much information as possible about Ohio State University football, both for 1984 and in the past. Every effort has been made to assure its accuracy and usefulness.

Requests for additional information such as photos, slides, statistics, or for press, radio or photoghraphic accommodations should be addressed to the Sports Information Office, Room 124, St. John Arena.

Please made your working press reservations as early as possible. All requests for press box space should be in writing. Only daily newspapers are accepted.

Visiting radio stations desiring to broadcast from Ohio Stadium must be cleared through Ohio State Sports Information Director Marvin Homan. Lines will not be installed otherwise.

Ohio radio stations must clear through Mr. Thomas Stewart, Vice President and General Manager of Station WBNS in Columbus. Station WBNS has the exclusive radio rights to Ohio State Football for the 1984 season.

To avoid congestion on the sidelines, it is necessary to limit the number of photographers.

We hope you will find this Press Book suitable to your needs. If you have any suggestions that would make it better and more informative, please make them known to us.

Ohio State Football Outlook

Graduation took a heavy toll on the 1983 Ohio State football team that won nine of 12, including a Fiesta Bowl victory over Pittsburgh. Five regulars return from an offensive unit that averaged 34 points per game while only three defensive starters are back. Thus, a total of 14 new starters must be found.

Steady progress was made in spring practice until the concluding Scarlet-Gray Game. In the second quarter, veteran quarterback Mike Tomczak broke his leg, casting a pall of gloom and uncertainty over Ohio State football for 1984.

How quickly Tomczak can recover and how effective he will be when he does come back are key questions?

Coach Bruce on the Buckeyes

"We lost so many players on the defensive end that it has to be a concern. We made some changes in our defensive package that should help. Our defense came together in spring practice quicker than we thought it would. I'm optimistic.

"Offensively we should be strong. Our offensive line is big, quick and fairly experienced. We thought with Tomczak's leadership and his ability to make the big play and with a back like Keith Byars, we should be able to move the ball. Now, with the injury to Mike, we have some questions that will be with us all summer."

OFFENSE

In addition to replacing six starters from the 1983 unit, the major challenge is to come up with a new corps of pass receivers. The loss of John Frank, Cedric Anderson and Thad Jemison leaves a huge void.

A new tackle, center and fullback also must be found, but replenishing the pass receivers is top priority.

Line

Jay Holland, the most improved player in spring drills, will start at split end. Fast and clever in the open field, Holland has found a home as a receiver.

Doug Smith is close behind while Kevin Delaney continues to improve. Additionally, there are several gifted freshmen who will strengthen this spot.

Judd Groza, a senior, and Ed Taggart, a sophomore, are virtually even at tight end. Groza is more experienced and has an edge in blocking, while Taggart is a determined receiver, who improved in all phases of the game in the spring. Here again, the Buckeyes have two talented freshmen who will challenge.

Mark Krerowicz is a standout tackle who may be headed for national honors. Strong and rugged, he consistently outplayed opposing defensive tackles last year. Krerowicz was Ohio State's top offensive lineman in 1983.

Rory Graves will start at left tackle. He is bigger, quicker and much more confident in his blocking techniques than a year ago.

First-line tackle depth will come from Bob Maggs and Ron Paulsen with Jay Shaffer and Dan Bachorski on the next unit.

Maggs has considerable talent and is more comfortable playing tackle than at center, where he spent some time last year. Paulsen, at 252, a junior college transfer, is the smallest of Ohio State's six top tackles. He took part in spring practice and adapted quickly.

The Buckeyes have two outstanding guards in Scott Zalenski and Jim Lachey. Each has the size, speed and athletic ability to be a top quality guard. Zalenski has started 25 games, including six as a freshman. Lachey, also a three-year letter winner, is headed for a great year. An exceptional all-around athlete, he is the fastest interior lineman on the squad.

Depth at guard will be supplied by Jim Gilmore, a two letter winner, and by Tom McCormick. Gilmore, a junior, has played a different position each year, but now seems settled at guard. McCormick won the backup spot from Tom Glancey.

Talented Kirk Lowdermilk may be too versatile for his own good. He too has played a different position each year and now is being moved to center to replace the graduated Joe Dooley. A starting guard in 1983, Lowdermilk won second team all-Big Ten honors. Physically strong and highly competitive, he learns quickly and is willing to sacrifice for the good of the team.

Tim Odom and Rich Morris will play behind Lowdermilk. Although inexperienced, each is considered a good prospect.

Backfield

Tomczak was to start at quarterback, and still may, depending upon how quickly he recovers. A respected leader and winner, Tomczak is the second most productive passer in Ohio State history. His presence provides a versatility to the offense that is difficult for opposing teams to defend.

If Tomczak is unable to start, Jim Karsatos will get the call. He played very well in 1983 when Tomczak was injured, showing marked poise in a pressure situation. Karsatos is an excellent passer who can throw the long bomb.

Byars may well be the top running back in college football. Moved from fullback to tailback in 1983, he averaged 5.4 yards per carry as he rushed for 1,199 yards. Byars scored 22 touchdowns, 20 by rushing, one on a pass reception and another on a 99-yard kickoff return. He is a rare blend of speed and power.

Behind him are two talented sophomores, Roman Bates and John Wooldridge. Bates averaged 5.5 yards per try in 1983 and Wooldridge 5.2. It is doubtful if any college in the country has three better tailbacks.

Quick, slashing Barry Walker will play fullback. His compact, heavy build belies his breakaway speed. Fullbacks are likely to carry the ball more than in recent years, when they were mainly blockers.

George Cooper and Tony Cooper, not related, show good promise as reserves. George reported in the fall of 1983 with a bad shoulder and surgery was required. He officially enrolled at Ohio State in the winter of 1984. Tony also had physical problems. He battled a persistent ankle injury and ultimately was red-shirted.

Mike Lanese, originally a tailback, will start at flanker. He has good hands and plays with great dedication. Nate Harris, a speedy freshman red-shirt, will supply depth along with two newcomers, one a freshman and the other a junior college transfer.

DEFENSE

Prior to Tomczak's injury, the chief cause for concern centered around the defense, where eight starters had been lost from the 1983 team.

Two inside and two outside linebackers had to be replaced along with three-fourths of the secondary. When nose guard Spencer Nelms opted to graduate early and forego his senior year of football, an eighth regular had to be found.

Experienced defensive players are in short supply. Six reserves from the 1983 team and two red-shirts are expected to fill the eight vacancies on the defensive unit. Depth is a problem in some areas.

Line

Dave Morrill and Dave Crecelius are returning regulars at tackle. Morrill played exceptionally well down the stretch and was named the "Top Defensive Lineman" in 1983. He will be a standout this year.

Crecelius is a steady athlete who rarely makes a mistake. He consistently grades high for effective play and frequently is involved in key tackles.

Henry Brown, Ray Holliman and John Sullivan are in reserve. Brown is the most experienced. He has the size and temperament to become a valuable player. Holliman has considerable talent, but is almost totally inexperienced. Sullivan is ready to help now that he is healthy and settled.

Tony Giuliani and Darryl Lee will vie to start at nose guard. Giuliani, a senior, has an edge in experience. He is short and powerful and very difficult to block. Lee is one of the hardest workers on the team and has a rare knack for coming up with a big play at crucial times. Giuliani and Lee are certain to see plenty of action.

Linebackers

Byron Lee, who started the last five games in 1983 when Curt Curtis was injured, will be a regular this year. He is the only outside linebacker on the team to start a college game. Lee is fast and strong.

A pair of red-shirts, Eric Kumerow and Gary Alders, will compete for the other outside position. Kumerow was a quarterback and defensive back in high school. He worked all of last fall at quarterback but moved to outside linebacker for the Fiesta Bowl preparation. Now he is a strong candidate to start at the outside spot.

Alders, like Kumerow, came to Ohio State as a quarterback. He moved to the secondary his freshman year and recently has been switched to outside linebacker. Alders had a slight edge over Kumerow in spring drills.

Other hopefuls include Tom Bose, an athlete with considerable natural talent, and Mike Kee, whose progress has been slowed by injuries.

The starters at the inside positions figure to be Pepper Johnson and Larry Kolic. Johnson played 168 minutes last year as a top reserve. A jarring tackler who is usually around the ball, he can be a dominant player.

Kolic, red-shirted in 1983, had an excellent spring. Intense, agile and punishing, he has all the ingredients needed to become an outstanding linebacker.

Mark Pfister and Joe Jenkins have advanced to backup roles. Pfister, plagued by a disheartening series of injuries and illnesses, has never been at full strength. Jenkins, a top prospect from the Chicago Catholic League, indicates he is ready to help.

Buckeye coaches were elated when Chris Spielman of Washington High in Massillon cast his lot with Ohio State. His unusual talent and intensity command special attention and respect.

Secondary

Safety Kelvin Bell is the lone returnee from the 1983 starting secondary. Bell has 33 career starts for Ohio State, more than any other member of the team. He led Ohio State with five interceptions last season.

Steve Hill and Jim Palmer are probable starters at the corner positions. Hill, with 119 minutes playing time, is easily the more experienced. He will play to the boundary side. Palmer has won two letters with most of his action coming with the specialty teams. He will play on the wide side.

Scott Leach, a hard hitter with good size, is a strong candidate to start somewhere. Other top hopefuls include Terry White and Ray Jackson, both small but extremely fast.

Kevin Richardson will start at the rover position. He played 77 minutes in 1983 and can play anywhere in the secondary. Sonny Gordon will spell Richardson, and he too can help at other positions if needed.

Ohio State has several talented freshmen who are expected to bolster the secondary once they become familiar with the defensive assignments.

Kicking Game

Karl Edwards, who did all of Ohio State's punting the past two years, has graduated. The only player on the team who has kicked in a college game is Gary Alders, and that was in 1981, his freshman year.

Alders, Taggart and freshman Tom Tupa are the top punting candidates. Tupa averaged 44.8 yards per kick at Brecksville High School last year.

Rich Spangler and Paul Allen return for extra points, field goals and kickoffs. Spangler made 53 of 54 conversions last year, so he seems set.

Field goal kicking was inconsistent in 1983. Spangler has the accuracy and Allen has the range. A highly regarded freshman, Jeff Comptom, kicked 12 of 15 field goals in high school in 1983, and did not miss at distances less than 50 yards.

Both Spangler and Allen are effective kickoff specialists and should be even better in 1984.

Summary

How quickly Tomczak recovers and how well the defense performs are vital to Ohio State's 1984 season.

With a big, agile line, probably the best running back in college football in Byars, and with a seasoned, talented quarterback in Tomczak, the offense should be powerful and versatile.

Defensively, the team is limited in experience and in depth.

Earle Bruce — Head Football Coach

Earle Bruce has been head football coach at Ohio State University since 1979 and his Buckeye teams have compiled a 47-13 record, best of any Big Ten school the past five years. Bruce's Ohio State teams have won Big Ten Championships in 1979 and 1981 and have had near misses two other years. Each of his five Buckeye teams has played in a bowl game, thus extending Ohio's string to 12 straight years of bowl competition.

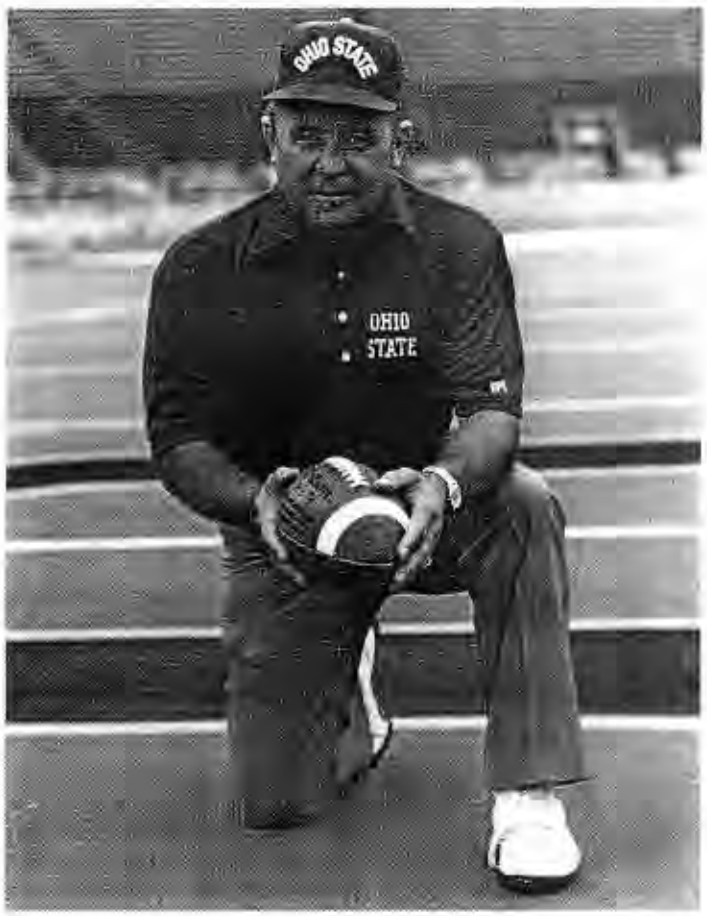
Bruce was named "College Coach of the Year" in 1979, when he guided the Buckeyes to a perfect 11-0 regular season mark. Only a 17-16 loss in the Rose Bowl kept Ohio State from a probable national championship.

Each of Bruce's Ohio State teams have had powerful offenses, scoring 390 points in 1979, 387 both in 1980 and 1981, 348 in 1982, and 410 in 1983.

His five Ohio State teams have an outstanding 34-7 record in Big Ten competition.

Bruce was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania and moved to Cumberland, Maryland at age ten. He was a star halfback and top sprinter in high school. He enrolled at Ohio State in the fall of 1949, but a serious knee injury as a freshman ruined his football career as a player. He reinjured his knee prior to the 1951 season and had to drop football. Discouraged and tempted to drop out of college, he was persuaded by Coach Woody Hayes to remain and get a degree. Woody's persistence paid off, for Bruce did remain in school and graduated on schedule in the spring of 1953.

Bruce launched his coaching career in the fall of 1953 as an assistant at Mansfield Senior High in Mansfield, Ohio. His first opportunity as head coach came in 1956 at Salem. Four years later, he moved to Sandusky and in 1964 he became head coach at Massillon. In ten years as a head coach in high school, Bruce's teams compiled an impressive 82-12-3 record. He was 28-9 at Salem, 34-3-3 at Sandusky and 20-0 at Massillon.



He holds the rare distinction of being named "Ohio High School Coach of the Year" three times, in 1960, 1964 and again in 1965. He ended his high school coaching career with a 42-game winning streak intact.

At this point, Bruce left the high school ranks to become an assistant at Ohio State in 1966. For two years, he served as defensive backfield coach and when a staff realignment took place in 1968, he moved to offense as coach of the guards and centers.

During his six years as an assistant at Ohio State, the Buckeyes won three Big Ten championships, one national title, played in two Rose Bowl games and compiled a 43-14 record.

Bruce left Ohio State in 1972 to become head coach at the University of Tampa. He was an immediate success. The 1972 Tampa team had a 10-2 record, including a Tangerine Bowl win over Kent State, Mid-American Conference champion.

The following year Bruce was named head coach at Iowa State in the powerful Big Eight Conference. Victories were hard to come by at Iowa State, where the school had enjoyed only two winning seasons in ten years.

After three straight 4-7 seasons, Earle's hard work and dedication paid off as Iowa State recorded three consecutive 8-3 marks. This was the first time in 54 years that the Cyclones had enjoyed three straight winning seasons. In two of these years, Bruce was named "Big Eight Coach of the Year" and in 1977 and 1978, Iowa State received bowl bids. Cyclone football was on its soundest base in many years thanks to Bruce.

In January of 1979, when Ohio State suddenly needed a head football coach, Bruce was the choice, and he eagerly accepted.

Bruce was an ideal choice for the head coaching position at Ohio State. He graduated from the Buckeye school in 1953 and coached high school football in Ohio for 13 years. He had served as an assistant at Ohio State for six years and was familiar with the workings of the Big Ten. He proved his ability to win on all levels, high school, small college and on a major college level in the Big Eight Conference.

Earle is a well-organized administrator who places great emphasis on pre-game planning. He is a good recruiter, an excellent public speaker and a strong spokesman for college football. He can develop and motivate talent and enjoys matching football strategy with opponent coaches on the sidelines.

Earle and his wife, Jean, have four daughters, Lynn, Michele, Aimee and Noel.

Ohio State provides the best of two worlds, a quiet, charming campus conducive to study and scholarly pursuits along with the advantages and conveniences of a major population center.

Education at Ohio State flourishes beyond the undergraduate level. All the professional colleges, Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Optometry, Pharmacy, Nursing and Veterinary Medicine are located on the Columbus campus. With over 3,000 students in professional colleges, Ohio State has the second largest professional school enrollment in the country.

The Optometry College is rated among the top three in the nation and the Pharmacy College currently ranks third. The College of Veterinary Medicine consistently ranks in the top four in the country. The University Medical Center is experiencing continual expansion

There are countless clubs and organizations for students with special interests and talents; there are cultural events in the form of concerts, drama, movies, lectures and a Great Artist Series at Ohio State's Mershon Auditorium. There are parties and social events in the dormitories and in the fraternities and sororities. And there are athletic events.

The thrills, excitement and pageantry of 89,000 fans in Ohio Stadium on an autumn afternoon cheering for the Buckeyes is an unforgettable experience. And there is basketball, with 13,591 fans jamming St. John Arena during the winter months. At Ohio State there is something for everyone.

The Ohio State University has made a profound and lasting impression on thousands and thousands of students. For many, Ohio State is the high-point in their life. The opportunity to learn, to make friends and to plan your future has no limits. The door is open and is waiting for you.

Director of Athletics–Richard M. "Rick" Bay

Richard M. "Rick" Bay was named Director of Athletics at The Ohio State University, May 16, 1984. He officially took office July 1, when Former Director Hugh Hindman retired.

Bay came to Ohio State from the University of Oregon, where he served as Director of Athletics for nearly three years.

When he went to Oregon in 1981, the athletic program was in debt and was about to go on NCAA probation.

In one year, Bay balanced the budget with increased revenue through the reorganization of a fund raising program and by reducing expenditures. By the time he left Oregon to take the position at Ohio State, the NCAA probation had been lifted and a stronger bond of trust and respect had been established between athletics and the faculty and administration. The athletic program was functioning smoothly and operating on a sound financial base. Under Bay's guidance, Oregon raised more than one million dollars during the 1982-83 school year, a record high for athletic fund raising at the University.

Bay is a man of unusual talents and of diverse interests. His father was a wrestling coach and an athletic administrator and his stepmother was an English teacher, who had a special interest in Elizabethan drama. Rick's interests and talents reflect this.

A native of Waukegan, Illinois, he graduated from high school with a 3.9 grade point average. As an athlete, he won all-Illinois honors in football, wrestling and baseball. He was chosen "Illinois Athlete of the Year" in 1961.

Bay attended the University of Michigan, graduating with honors in 1965. He majored in English and speech. In athletics, he was a standout wrestler and played quarterback in football. He won two Big Ten championships in wrestling and won All-America honors in 1964. In his senior year, 1965, he was named "Outstanding Wrestler in the Big Ten." He went through an entire three-year wrestling career without losing a dual meet decision in Big Ten competition.

Following graduation, he worked in commercial radio, and in 1966, was named assistant wrestling coach at Michigan. He held this position four years and in 1970 was named head wrestling coach of the Wolverines. In four years as head coach, Bay's Michigan teams compiled a glittering 43-5-3 dual meet record, including a 31-2-2 mark against Big Ten opposition. The 1973 Michigan team won the Big Ten championship and the 1974 team was runner-up in the NCAA. In 1973, Bay was named "College Wrestling Coach of the Year."

After the 1974 wrestling season, Bay joined the Michigan Alumni Association. He was responsible for directing the external activities of the Alumni Association including its nationwide club program and an alumni enrichment drive. In 1980, Bay directed the association's successful $2.6 million fund raising campaign for a new Alumni Center.

For a ten-year period, Bay also served as color commentator for Michigan football on radio.

Additionally, Bay is a patron of the arts, with a special interest in dance, opera and theatre. He has seen literally hundreds of professional productions throughout the world and served as "Theatre Critic" for an Ann Arbor radio station.

In sports, Bay enjoys golf and tennis and does some sporadic running. He ran in the 1979 Boston Marathon and finished in the top 15% of the field.

James Jones — Senior Associate Director of Athletics

Jim Jones has been a member of the Athletic Department since 1967 and an employee of The Ohio State University since 1965. The first two years he taught in the Physical Education Department. Two years later he joined the Athletic Department as academic counselor. In 1970 he was named Assistant Director of Athletics and in 1977 he became Senior Associate Director.

As Associate Director, his chief duties include administration of the grant-in-aid program; rules interpretation, especially in the areas of eligibility and recruiting; maintenance of the physical plant and individual travel.

Jones is a 1958 graduate of Kent State University, with a major in mathematics. After graduation, he taught mathematics and coached football and basketball both on a junior high and senior high level.

In 1964, Jones went to Ball State University and earned a master's degree. The following year he came to Ohio State.

Jim and his wife, Linda, have two children, son Bill and daughter Lynnae.

Richard Delaney — Associate Director of Athletics

Richard Delaney joined The Ohio State University staff in 1970 as Assistant Director of Athletics. He was named Associate Director in July of 1977. His chief duties are to conduct special programs, especially the National Youth Sports Program. He serves as supervisor of the Ice Rink, coordinator of the work-study program, administers the book-loan program, coordinates team travel and is adviser to the cheerleading squad.

Delaney conducted youth recreation programs in Akron, Chicago and Cleveland before joining the Ohio State staff.

Delaney is a native of Akron and a 1954 graduate of Western Reserve University. As an undergraduate, he played football and basketball.

He returned to Case-Western Reserve in 1969. He served as assistant football coach for two years and was head basketball coach one season.

He and his wife, Bee, have two sons, Keenan and Kevin, both students at OSU.

Phyllis Bailey — Associate Director of Athletics

Phyllis Bailey was named Assistant Director of Athletics in July of 1975 and Associate Director in July of 1977. Her duties are to supervise and coordinate the women's athletic program at Ohio State.

Ms. Bailey has been a member of the Ohio State faculty since the fall of 1956. In 1959 she continued to teach but also became Associate Director of Recreation, Intramurals and Intercollegiate Sports for Women.

It was during this period that the women's intercollegiate athletic program was experiencing rapid growth. Presently there are 12 sports for women at The Ohio State University and the number of participants is increasing annually. With the advent of a grant-in-aid program for women in the fall of 1976, continued growth and expansion are assured.

Ms. Bailey is a 1948 graduate of Miami University. Following graduation, she was a physical education instructor at Earlham College for three years.

She went to Wayne State University to teach in women's physical education for five years before coming to Ohio State University in 1956.

Allen Bohl — Director of Athletic Fund Raising

Dr. Allen R. Bohl was named Director of Athletic Fund Raising, May 1, 1982. He replaced Don Cook, who was the first athletic fund raiser and who had served since 1977.

Dr. Bohl's goal is to raise enough funds annually, to cover the cost of the grant-in-aid program for men and women athletes. Dr. Bohl works closely with alumni, business and industry and with friends of Ohio State University to provide funding in athletics.

Bohl is a native of Vermilion, Ohio and a 1970 graduate of Bowling Green State University. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force. In 1977, he joined the Athletic Department as an administrative assistant to Director Hugh Hindman.

Bohl earned a Ph.D. at Ohio State in August, 1978, and worked for one year as Assistant Director of Financial Aids.

Dr. Bohl left Ohio State in July, 1979, and became Director of the Buckeye Racquetball Club.

He and his wife, Sherry have three children, sons Brett and Nathan and daughter, Heidi.

Kevin Richardson will start at the rover position. He came to Ohio State as a tailback.

Scott Leach is a highly competitive athlete who is certain to help in the secondary.

Pepper Johnson can be a dominant linebacker. He was third in tackles last year even though he was not a starter.

Oregon State Outlook

Coach Joe Avezzano starts the 1984 season with more good football players having more experience than at any time since taking over at Oregon State in 1979. Lack of depth, long a problem at Oregon State, should not be a major concern this season.

Seventeen starters return from 1983, nine on offense and eight from the defense. The offensive line is especially solid with everyone back except at the tight end position. Standouts include wide receiver Reggie Bynum, who caught 37 passes for 817 yards and seven touchdowns last year; Dwayne Jackola, a 290-pound tackle; and Rick Meggers, a guard.

The concerns on offense are to improve the passing attack, that completed only 42.7 percent in 1983 with 29 interceptions, and to improve the outside running attack. Darvin Malone, a nifty tailback, should make the wide game stronger in 1984.

Defensively the Beavers are solid. Top performers are tackles Angelo Dilulo and corner back Kenny Taylor.

Washington State Outlook

Football prospects at Washington State loom bright. The Cougars won their last five Pac 10 Conference games in 1983 and gave up only 28 points in the last four contests.

There are 42 returning lettermen and 33 of the top 44 players from 1983 are back. Rarely has Washington State had so many good football players.

The offensive line is big and experienced. All-Pac 10 lineman Dan Lynch is one of the best. The most notable loss was quarterback Ricky Turner, but understudy Mark Rypien, who completed 28 of 56, appears ready. Fullback Kerry Turner, who ran for 1,000 yards in 1983, paces the running attack.

Defensively, Washington State was very strong down the stretch and most of the players from this unit are back. The addition of Steve Haub, a two-year starter who missed most of last season with an injury, bolsters the secondary.

Glenn Harper, who averaged over 42 yards per kick, and placekicker John Traut, make the kicking game strong.

Iowa, undefeated and ranked sixth in the nation, ended 21 years of frustration against Ohio State with a hard fought 20-14 victory before a wildly enthusiastic sellout crowd at Iowa City.

The Buckeyes outrushed the Hawkeyes 212 yards to 124, but were out-passed, 276 yards to 125.

Iowa quarterback Chuck Long connected on 16 of 26 passes, including two scoring tosses to turn the tide. The clincher was a 73-yard bomb to Dave Moritz in the fourth quarter. This was the longest completion against the Buckeyes all season and gave the Hawks a 20-7 lead.

Three pass interceptions halted Ohio State drives but the biggest blow was an injury to star tailback Keith Byars in the second period. Up to this time Byars had run for 98 yards in nine carries. The ankle injury sidelined Byars for the remainder of the game and took away much of the Buckeye offense.

Ohio State trounced an error-prone Minnesota team 69-18, scoring the most points by either team in the entire series.

Buckeye Coach Earle Bruce used 77 players, including 12 different ball carriers, as Ohio State amassed 487 yards in total offense, 247 by passing and 240 on the ground.

Seven Minnesota turnovers plus a blocked punt totally destroyed the Gophers.

Keith Byars, who saw only limited action, was the top rusher with 87 yards in ten carries, including three touchdown runs.

Linebackers Rowland Tatum and Clark Backus led OSU in tackles with 13 and 11, respectively. Tatum had one of Ohio State's four interceptions.

Quarterback Mike Tomczak completed six passes in limited play, for a total of 179 yards, just under 30 yards per completion.

With cornerback Garcia Lane and tailback Keith Byars leading the way, Ohio State defeated Purdue 33-22 in Ohio Stadium.

Lane returned two punts for touchdowns, and single-handedly broke open a tight game, taking OSU from a precarious 12-7 halftime lead to a 26-7 bulge after three quarters.

Byars ran for 135 yards and caught four passes for 120, to become the first Buckeye since Ray Hamilton in 1949 to top the century mark in rushing and receiving in the same game.

Place kicker Paul Allen accounted for Ohio's first six points with field goals of 21 and 41 yards.

Purdue's Scott Campbell completed 23 of 36 passes for 228 yards, but the Boilermakers had neither the running attack nor the defense to control the game.

Pepper Johnson led the Buck defense with 11 stops.

Oct. 15 — At Champaign — 73,414

Ohio State	0	3	10	0 — 13

Illinois, who had lost 15 straight games to Ohio State, took a giant stride toward the Rose Bowl with a dramatic 17-13 win over the Buckeyes before 73,414 jubilant fans in Memorial Stadium.

The defeat was especially disheartening to Ohio State, who had lost starting quarterback Mike Tomczak in the first quarter with a concussion, and who had fallen behind 10-0, only to rally and take a 13-10 lead with just 1:47 to play.

Illinois put on one of its most dramatic drives in history to go 83 yards in five plays to turn defeat into victory.

The Buckeyes outrushed the Illini 222 yards to 93, but Illinois held a marked advantage in the air, 234 yards to 115.

The Buckeye defense, led by Rowland Tatum, Clark Backus and Curt Curtis, played brilliantly until the final drive.

With red-shirt freshman quarterback Jim Karsatos making his first collegiate start subbing for the injured Mike Tomczak, Ohio State defeated Michigan State 21-11 on a wet, windy, chilly day.

Karsatos connected on nine of 16 passes for 170 yards and one touchdown against an inspired Spartan team.

Total yardage was virtually even with the Buckeyes holding a slight edge 283 yards to 280. Four Michigan State turnovers, three on fumbles and one on an interception, spelled the difference.

Michigan State's only touchdown came when the Spartans with 57 seconds remaining, blocked a Buckeye punt in the end zone and Tom Tyree recovered for the Green and White.

Buckeye tight end John Frank turned in another stellar performance by catching five passes for 115 yards, including a 39-yard scoring pass.

A strong running attack led by Keith Byars and a stout second-half defense enabled Ohio State to defeat Wisconsin 45-27 before a soldout crowd of 89,203 fans in Ohio Stadium. Byars ran for 174 yards as the Buckeye offense accounted for 525 total yards.

The Badgers were unable to mount a ground attack against Ohio State and turned to the strong right arm of quarterback Randy Wright, who hit on 23 of 39 for 319 yards and three touchdowns. Ohio State intercepted four of Wright's passes. Kelvin Bell picked off two, while Rowland Tatum and Shaun Gayle had one each.

Buckeye quarterback Mike Tomczak was brilliant with 12 completions in 14 attempts for 162 yards. After his first pass was incomplete, Tomczak completed the next 11 to tie a school record. Unfortunately the next pass was dropped ending the string at 11 straight.

Showing power and consistency, Ohio State scored two touchdowns in each of four quarters to subdue Indiana 56-17 in Bloomington.

So dominant was the Buckeye offense, that punter Karl Edwards was never called upon throughout the game. It was the first time in 99 games that Ohio State was never forced to punt.

The Ohio State offense rolled for 536 yards, 313 on the ground and 223 in the air. By contrast Indiana managed only 81 yards on the ground against a strong Buckeye defensive line. The Hoosiers went almost entirely to the pass, attempting 52 for 337 yards and two scores.

Ohio State scored on its first four possessions to take a 28-3 halftime lead.

Keith Byars rushed for 169 yards and scored four times. Mike Tomczak completed ten of 16 for 160 yards. Split end Thad Jemison caught five for 95 yards and one touchdown.

Nov. 12 — At Columbus — 88,703

Northwestern	0	0	0	7 — 7
Ohio State	20	21	7	7 — 55

Ohio State struck quickly and often to overwhelm Northwestern 55-7 on a clear but cold afternoon in Ohio Stadium.

The tone of the game was established at the outset, when Northwestern fumbled the opening kickoff and Ohio State recovered on the Northwestern five. Two plays later, Buckeye fullback Vaughn Broadnax plowed over.

Ohio State scored three times in both the first and second quarters to take a 41-0 lead at halftime.

Rich Spangler, who had made 41 straight conversions, missed after the second Buckeye score to snap the streak.

Tight end John Frank caught three passes to push his career total to 107, second only to Gary Williams among the all-time pass receiving leaders in OSU history.

Mike Tomczak passed for 118 yards in limited play. This took him over the 3,000-yard mark for his career and put him second among Ohio State passers.

Nov. 19 — At Ann Arbor — 106,115

Michigan	10	0	0	14 — 24
Ohio State	0	7	7	7 — 21

Michigan edged Ohio State 24-21 in a rare offensive display between these two long-time rivals. The combined total of 45 points were the most since 1968, when the Buckeyes won handily 50-14.

The Wolverines outrushed Ohio State 217 yards to 152, but the Buckeyes prevailed in the air 298 yards to 207.

Turnovers spelled the difference as Ohio State lost two fumbles and had two interceptions while Michigan had no turnovers throughout the game.

Mike Tomczak passed for 298 yards and Keith Byars ran for 115, but when Michigan converted an interception and a fumble recovery into two second half touchdowns, the outcome was decided.

The loss dropped Ohio State into fourth place in the Big Ten and sent the Buckeyes to the Fiesta Bowl. The win enabled Michigan to finish third and to play in the Sugar Bowl.

OHIO STATE has led the nation in attendance per home game for 21 of the last 33 years and has been second 9 times and third 3 times

The symbol of Ohio State University football is Ohio Stadium, a stately, venerable, 63-year-old structure that has been the home site for Buckeye games since 1922. Its unique, double-decked, horseshoe-shaped design has been studied by countless architects and designers.

Ohio State played its early football at Ohio Field, with a capacity of 14,000. When the University joined the Western Conference (now the Big Ten) in 1913, pressure for a larger stadium mounted.

World War I temporarily arrested plans for a new stadium, but in October, 1920, the Stadium campaign officially began. Alumni, friends of Ohio State, Columbus residents and students supported the cause. More than 13,000 people pledged gifts totaling $1,083,000 and the dream thus became a reality.

Construction began in August, 1921, and by September, 1922, the structure was virtually completed. The cost of the Stadium was $1,341,000, an unheard-of figure in those days. The original capacity was 66,210. Critics bitterly chastised Ohio State Athletic Director L. W. St. John for such an extravagant facility that had "thousands of seats that would never be filled."

Ohio Stadium was dedicated October 21, 1922 and an overflow crowd of 71,385 fans was present.

The capacity of the concrete structure has been gradually increased to 73,349 with the addition of several rows of seats, narrowing the width of all seats, and by creating additional boxes. South stands and temporary field seats have been added. The south stands were enlarged again in 1982 raising the seating capacity to 85,290. An additional 1,000 standing room tickets are sold.

Ohio Stadium has unusual design. Towers are located at each side of the open end. The circumference is one-third of a mile and the ground area is ten acres. The Stadium is 752 feet long and 596 feet wide. The height of the back wall is 98 feet.

There are 56 stairways, 12 ramps and 112 aisles feeding 81 exits. A capacity crowd can clear the Stadium in seven minutes.

With the conclusion of the 1983 season, 24,051,497 people have watched 350 Ohio State football games, an average of 68,718 per game and more than the original capacity.

Tailback Roman Bates averaged 5.5 yards per carry last year. He has the speed to go all the way any time he has the ball.

Rich Spangler (10) kicked 41 or 44 extra points in 1982 and 53 of 54 last year. The 53 conversions is a single season OSU record.

Larry Kolic will start at an inside linebacker position. He is quick and extremely strong.
